

ICIS-NPDES Historical Violation Data at ECHO Site

February 15, 2018

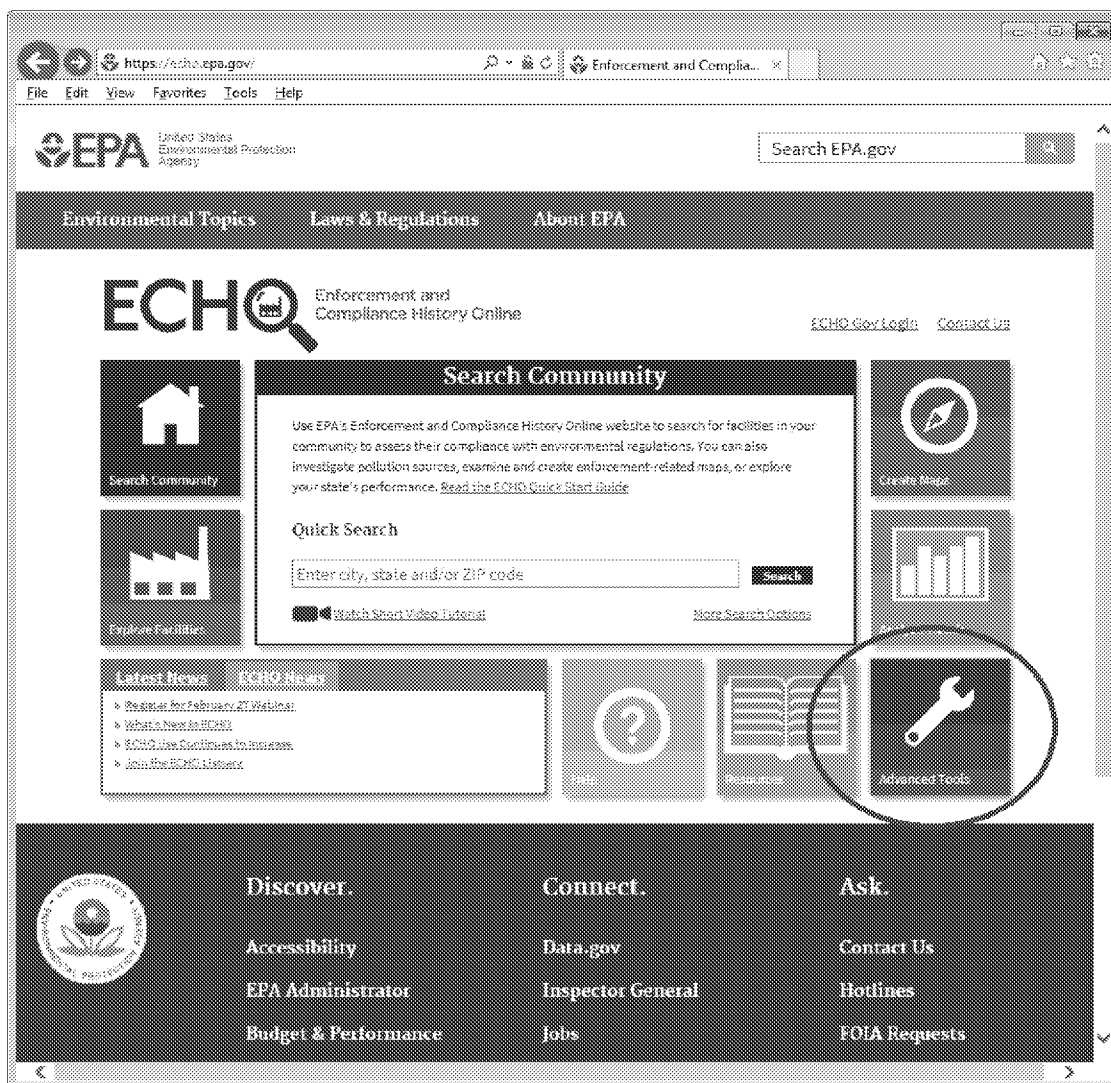

NPDES Permit and facility information in EPA's Integrated Compliance Information System (ICIS) databases is entered and maintained by the respective state authorized NPDES programs.

Publically available information from ICIS can be accessed on EPA's Enforcement and Compliance History Online (ECHO) website:

<http://echo.epa.gov/>

ECHO is "updated/refreshed" weekly by extracting select data from ICIS – the refresh occurs each weekend.

Once at ECHO, click on the "Advanced Tools" tile:

Click on the “Data Downloads” link:

ICIS-NPDES Data Set Download

Permitted facilities effluent violation data for Clean Water Act dischargers are available in national files on the ECHO Data Downloads page and by jurisdiction below. Data are from the EPA national system of record, ICIS-NPDES.

For a description of this data set, refer to the ICIS-NPDES Download Summary.

Download Data by Jurisdiction

1. Choose a jurisdiction, or click the map

2. Your download should begin automatically

The data process will begin – depending upon your browser and its settings. Internet Explorer will open a dialogue box with options for you:

Hope this helps...please contact the appropriate state agency if you have any questions concerning accuracy or completeness of data available.
